

ESSAY CONTEST: Micro Focus Products in the Academic Environment

HAS YOUR EDUCATION BEEN MADE EASIER BY A MICRO FOCUS PRODUCT? WE WANT TO HEAR ABOUT IT!

From file management, to email and scheduling for students and faculty, to wireless printing, to mobile and device management, to secure login, to disaster recovery planning, Micro Focus technology is a major player in the world's academic institutions.

And now that Micro Focus has more products in our arsenal than ever before, we want to find out what creative things you are doing with them to make things run better in the schools and universities you work in. Great excuse to have another contest, right?

HERE'S THE DEAL: Write an essay or article detailing the creative ways you use Micro Focus products at your school or university

We love to see how you guys get creative with our products, especially when you are up against challenges—like having to integrate with some crazy software dictated by the government. Or you have a pile of old or varied hardware in your labs, and you have to come up with some masterful MacGyver moves to get your products to function across it all. We especially appreciate those times when you come up with some clever use of a product that the engineers who built it probably never imagined.

Insider Tip
Judges will favor entries that include more than one Micro Focus product, amped up with your creativity.

Essays should describe how you use Micro Focus products from a technical aspect, and how they helped you do things like:

- Meet the needs of students and faculty
- Comply with policies and regulations
- Save time, money or resources

All eligible entries will receive a free Micro Focus Community T-shirt.

Entries must be original work of submitter. Plagiarized work will be immediately disqualified.

All entries not selected as winners are still eligible for publication on the Micro Focus Community and the Micro Focus blog (pending the technical review process). Once the contest has concluded, eligible pieces may still be used for community posts and the authors will receive Community Rewards points for their work as usual.

Entries must be about products you have used or are currently using.

Entries will be judged by a panel of Micro Focus product marketers, and three winners will be chosen. Winning essays will be picked based on the quality of the submission as determined by the judges.

Winning entries will be published on the Micro Focus community site and the Micro Focus blog*

Screenshots and images are encouraged, but must be the property of submitter.

By participating in the contest, you agree to these rules, and that all decisions made by Micro Focus regarding the contest shall be final.

All taxes associated with receipt or use of award are the sole responsibility of the winner. Micro Focus reserves the right to withhold any taxes if required by applicable law.

By participating in the contest, each participant grants to Micro Focus (including its corporate affiliates and licensees) a non-exclusive, worldwide, fully paid, royalty-free, perpetual license, with the right to sublicense, to reproduce, distribute, use, exploit, transmit, create derivative works of, publicly display and publicly perform the contents of the participant's essay (including graphics, sound effects, video, audio, animation, screen shots, text, other creative output, and ideas for new or improved products or services) or other content submitted in connection with the contest.

*Participants will be given the opportunity to select which of their and their companies' information may be shared by Micro Focus in promotional activities. Participant consents to Micro Focus' (including its corporate affiliates and licensees) use of his or her name (unless the winner requests that his or her name not be used) in perpetuity throughout the world in any media for all business purposes including advertising and promotional activities, without additional compensation, notice or approval, unless prohibited by law.
